

Highland Center Hotel

Hollywood, California

This twenty-four story, 275-room hotel occupies a prominent site near the highly-visible intersection of Highland Avenue and Hollywood Boulevard in the center of Hollywood. The project is comprised of 3-story podium and a 21-story tower. The podium contains all of the public functions of the hotel including the main lobby, restaurant-bar, grand ballroom and meeting rooms, as well as back-of-house functions. The top of the podium serves as the recreation deck, containing the swimming pool, spa and open space which all overlook the avenue. The tower contains a mix of guest rooms and suites. The design is reminiscent of the grand American hotels of the early 20th Century, in keeping with the historic architecture along Hollywood Boulevard. Designed by Christopher Coe.
