

Red Cross Pomona, California

Located in a new technology park, Innovation Village on the campus of Cal Poly Pomona, this 120,000 square foot building is the new Southern California center for the Red Cross. The project includes office space, research labs, and a warehouse. Designed under the direction of Christopher Coe while Managing Director and Director of Design of Arquitectonica Los Angeles.

